

BEEF IS UP AGAIN AND WILL GO FIVE CENTS HIGHER YET

Pork Also Boosted a Cent in the City's Wholesale Markets.

Prime beef again has advanced half a cent a pound, wholesale—the second rise of the kind in two days—and the retailers in the Old Washington and other big city markets got a tip to the effect that the choicest cuts of beef may go up five cents more a pound before the new yearling steers begin to come to the New York market. This will be sometime in August.

The arrival of live beavers yesterday totaled 2,847 head, as against 680 head on Tuesday. Twenty-five carloads were put on sale at the stock yards in Manhattan and Jersey City, and the best of the steers sold at the car side for 15 cents to 25 cents lower per hundred pounds than on the day before. There were no choice beavers in the lot. The official market report quoted the bulls as "quiet and steady," which meant their price and not their disposition. Other receipts yesterday were 2,243 calves, 7,599 sheep and lambs, and 4,667 hogs.

Pork was quoted yesterday at an advance of a cent a pound over the price of the previous week.

William H. Horridge, editor of the American Meat Trade, declares the retail meat dealers in Greater New York are actually losing $11 to $12 on every steer they cut up and sell in their shops. Here are his figures, based on a 600-pound carcass, at 14 cents a pound, wholesale:

Item	Price
Brisket Steak	$10.75
Butterhouse	8.75
Top Round	8.50
Bottom Round	8.50
Chuck	8.50
Tripe	8.50
Flank	8.50
Shank	8.50
Neck	8.50
Head	8.50
Feet	8.50
Butt	8.50
Shop Fat	8.50
Total	$86.88
600 lbs. at 14 cents per lb.	$84.00
Loss	$2.88

"This," says Mr. Horridge, "is a loss of $11 to $12, because the shop expenses, rent, wages, phone, deliveries, etc., average $14 to $15 per carcass sold."

PICKPOCKET ON BRIDGE.

Two Men Arrested on Chance,
Closely Followed by Victim.

When Policeman Clair of the Clinton street station, on duty at the Manhattan end of the Williamsburg Bridge, saw two men he recognized running down the bridge toward him early today, he took a chance and arrested them.

Behind the men came William Hing of No. 61 Central avenue, Brooklyn, who said he went to sleep midway of the bridge and was awakened by the two men stealing $2.50 from his pocket. The prisoners gave their names as Harry Greenberg, twenty-three, of No. 103 Livingston street, and Harry Miller, twenty-four, of No. 329 Madison street. They were arraigned in Essex Market Court on charges of grand larceny. The police say Greenberg has been arrested fifteen times as a suspicious person in connection with pocket-picking complaints.

A Charming Afternoon Frock Costume

That Can Be Made of Summer Material

Evening World's Original Fashions for Home Dressmakers.

DESCRIPTION.

This charming costume could be made of most any of the popular summer materials. White voile would be pretty trimmed with black and white stripe voile to match, which forms a vest portion on the waist, and skirt having a very swaggy effect, crossing clear over to the left side, held with large round buttons. Three of the same sort are placed on the right side of the front panel of the skirt, while a band of the stripe material finishes the bottom. The neck and sleeves are finished with platings of fine white lace held with black velvet ribbon, which forms a small bow in the front of the neck and on the back of the sleeves. A narrow black patent leather belt held with straps of the white voile defines the slightly raised waist line.

All questions concerning designs and materials of dresses should be addressed to the Fashion Editor of The Evening World. No patterns for designs in this column can be obtained, but with the description furnished it is a simple matter to work out patterns.

A new and distinctive feature of this department is the illustration of the different pieces of the pattern necessary for the making of the garment. It shows how easily the attractive design can be executed and also serves as a guide in cutting one's own pattern if such is needed.

around the hips it could be gathered. Buy some plain white batiste and make a kimono waist with a box plait of the dotted material down the front; also turn-back cuffs of it on the sleeves, and a flat collar to finish the round neck. Narrow lace edging could finish these trimmings to give a dainty touch. A small pocket would look out on the left side. A rather wide patent leather belt held on the sides with straps would complete the dress.

THE CURABLE STAGE OF CONSUMPTION

Do not go away from home in the hope of a cure from residing a short time in a different climate. Consumption as a disease is just as curable as any other disease and can be cured in any climate.

If you are cured at home you will remain well; while if you improve in another climate you return to your home only to have the disease break out again in a more virulent form than before.

If you feel that there has been failure to correctly diagnose or understand your case, call on Dr. Anderson and investigate his means of treatment for yourself.

He is one of New York's leading specialists in Thoracic and Lung Diseases and an expert in diagnosis by special X-ray examination, whereby he discovers the very earliest signs of lung trouble while the disease is yet in its curable stage.

It costs you nothing to find out for yourself, because consultation and examination are given without charge by Dr. Anderson, at his office, 50 West 45th street (between 5th and 6th avenues), New York.

Dear Fashion Editor:

I have two and a half yards of some very pretty blue dotted batiste which I think would make a pretty dress for my daughter, age fourteen years. If you could suggest some way of combining something else with it. The background of the goods is white with a blue dot.

MRS. H.

Use the dotted material for the skirt, with a panel front and back having plait underneath, while

ANSWERS TO QUERIES.

Dear Fashion Editor:

I have three yards of some beautiful all-over eyelet embroidery which I want to use in a dress for myself. Am thirty years of age and like my clothes rather plain, but with good lines.

MRS. H. T.

Make a kimono waist of the all-over with a deep chemiselet in the front of plain white material with Olney insertion at the neck. Also finish the sleeves with a cuff of plain white edged with Olney insertion. Make a tunic of the all-over for the skirt, which drops
